

Starkville Community Theater tryouts for the Festival production of "Spoon River" will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 23, at the Boardtown Restaurant building on South Lafayette Street.

In making the announcement, Mary Eleanor Anderson, SCT president, stated that this is to be the first time that the Starkville Community Theater has entered a production in the Mississippi Theater Festival.

The festival competition is to be held in Hattiesburg on Saturday, January 17. The winning production in the state competition will then represent Mississippi in the Southeastern Theater Conference in Orlando, Florida, March 6.

"The cast of Spoon River needs two men, two women and three musician-singers (guitar)," said Mrs. Anderson.

"Anyone interested should come to the try-outs Sunday afternoon at two o'clock."

Members are reminded that the try-outs on Sunday afternoon do not take the place of the regular SCT meeting, which is scheduled for Tuesday, December 2, at the Starkville Public Library.
